JEROME DONNELLY
PRIMARY EXAMINER

After a review of the pending claims in the application the examiner has determined that a restriction requirement between the method of practicing a golf swing using an elongated rod should be restricted from a method of stretching as indicated below.

Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- I. Claims 18-30, 35, 36, 38 and 40-42, drawn to a method of improving a golf swing, classified in class 473, subclass 409 and 131.
- II. Claim 31, drawn to a method of stretching a neck, classified in class 482, subclass 907.

Because these inventions are independent or distinct for the reasons given above and there would be a serious burden on the examiner if restriction is not required because the inventions require a different field of search (see MPEP § 808.02), restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To reserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.

Art Unit: 3764

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the inventions or species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the inventions or species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention.

Any inquiry concerning this communication should be directed to Jerome Donnelly at telephone number (571) 272-4975.
